Introduction:

In January 1774 Cook wrote in his journal:

"not only farther than any other man has been before me, but as far as I think it is possible for man to go".

James Cook is widely heralded as one of the greatest maritime explorers and certainly the greatest Pacific explorer of all time. Cook made three voyages between 1768 and 1779.

The aim of the exhibit is to follow in Cook's wake, illustrated by a wide range of postal items.

The Siege of Quebec 1759 1.2.1.

Cook entered the Royal Navy in 1755 for reasons of his own. In 1758 he was part of a British fleet capturing Fort Louisbourg from the French. Fort Louisborg was situated close to the mouth of the St. Lawrence River and important for controlling Canada.

In Cook's days a citadelle guarded Quebec which was the largest city by the St. Lawrence River.

Cook took part in the Siege of Quebec that lasted all summer of 1759.

2. A voyage to observe the Transit of Venus

2.1. The Transit of Venus was the primary aim of..

Observing the Transit of Venus was the primary aim of Cook's first voyage. It is an astronomical event when the "inner planet" Venus, Earth and the Sun are aligned, and Venus passes across the face of the Sun, as seen from Earth.

Original artwork, acrylic on art paper. Artist F.L.Lamosas. Unsigned, unique. For part of the 1981 Burundi 350th Death Anniversary of Johannes Kepler issue. Ex Fournier archives.

as issued.

Johannes Kepler (1571-1630) was the first to predict a transit of Venus..

and
Edmund Halley
(1656-1712),
described in 1691
how transits could be used to compute the distance from the Earth to the Sun.

2.2. .Cook's first voyage of discovery in..

Scientists from the Royal Society in London calculated that the Pacific Ocean would be a vantage point to observe it.

In 1768 Samuel Wallis (1728-95) returned from a voyage around the world where he had visited Tahiti. He spoke well of the island and the islanders and..

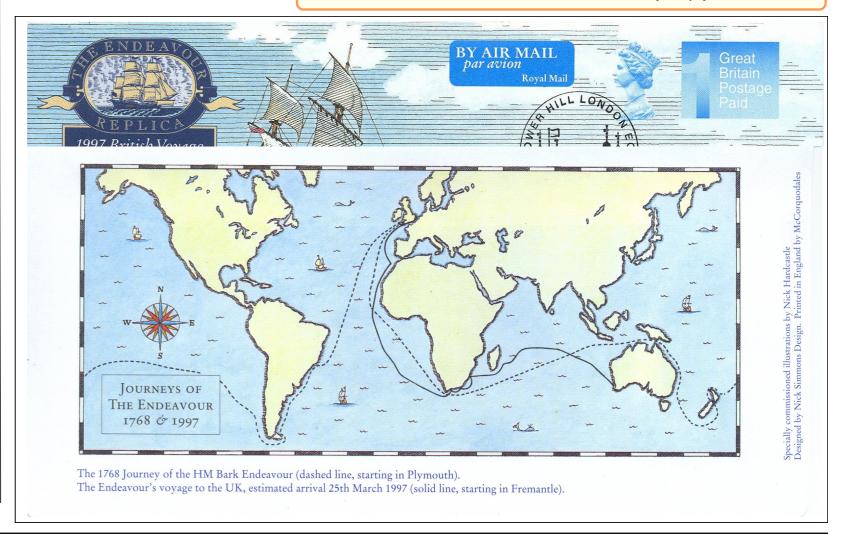

.Tahiti was chosen for observing the Transit.

On August 25th 1768 James Cook departed Plymouth on his First Voyage of Discovery.

Aerogramme (reverse). Issued to commemorate the British voyage of the ENDEAVOUR REPLICA 1997.

The dashed line shows the journey of James Cook 1768-71.

2.2.1. The ENDEAVOUR Bark.

"The Bark, Earl of Pembroke, later Endeavour, leaving Whitby Harbour in 1768". Part of painting attributed to T. Luny.

2nd 1999
ENDEAVOUR
WAY, LONDON, SW19

A Whitby collier (a ship for transporting coal in the North Sea trade) was selected for the voyage. It was the EARL of PEMBROKE and it was re-named HM Bark ENDEAVOUR. The ENDEAVOUR had three masts and carried square sails on all masts.

Original artwork, watercolour on art paper Unsigned. Acquired from the archives of the designer Geoff Fuller. New Zealand Heritage Ships issue 1990. Issued with a face value of 50c (above).

The ENDEAVOUR was ideal for the voyage ahead. It was a broad, flat bottomed ship with shallow draft and could sail close to shore for mapping and easily beached for repair.

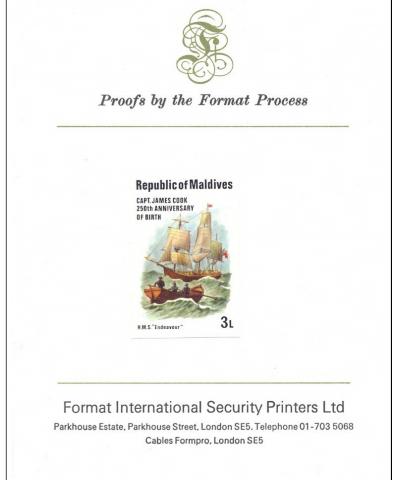

"View of the Endeavour River where the ship was laid ashore for repair". Painting by Parkinson.

The ENDEAVOUR carried an open oared pinnace rowed by pairs of men sitting side-by-side.

The stern was decorated with carvings. She had four stern windows, the middle window was a dummy.

The naturalist Joseph Banks.. 2.2.2.

Variety: Embossed head omitted.

The voyage was the first major voyage of scientific discovery and the twenty-five-year-old naturalist Joseph Banks (1743-1820) was the scientific leader of the expedition.

The naturalists found many plants and animals never before seen by Europeans and they made the first reported sighting of a kangaroo.

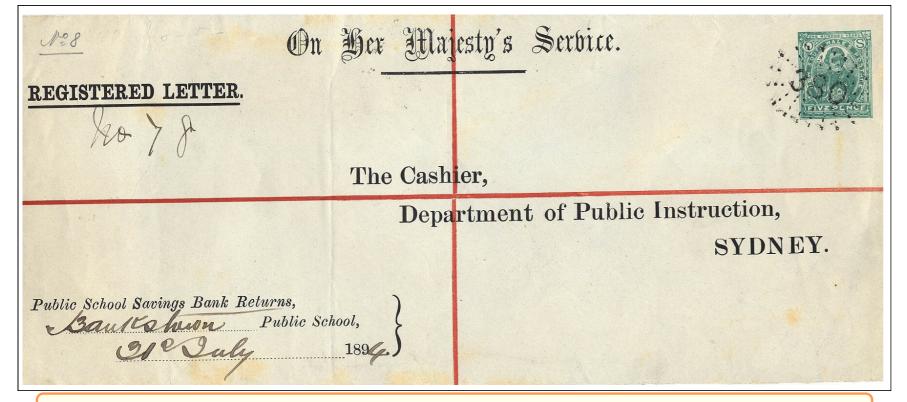

Entire from London to New York, United States endorsed "Kangaroo". Backstamped Liverpool cds 27 Apr 1859. Postage 48 + 6 c. ss KANGAROO was a passenger ship built in 1853 operating the Inman Line (former Liverpool, Philadelphia and New York Steamship Company) between Liverpool and New York.

The genus Banksia was created to honour Joseph Banks. It is a genus of trees or woody shrubs containing over 170 species, all but one endemic to Australia. 4 species were collected by Banks and co-workers in Australia.

2.3.2. .Tahiti for..

Enlarged part of design.

Cook selected Matavai Bay as a suitable anchorage to observe the transit. Cook named the northern part of the bay Point Venus.

This Niue 1920 issue was probably intended to depict Cook's landing in one of the Cook Islands.

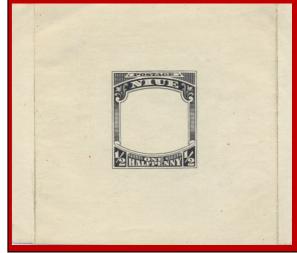

The design was however adapted from a photograph of Point Venus; the artist then added the men, boats and the mountains in the background.

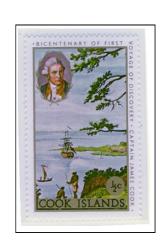

Die proof in black and green with visible guide-lines. Endorsed in pencil: "Niue", "½" and "lighter?".

Final artwork, watercolour on cardboard. Unsigned, unique. Ex Fournier archives. Based on Parkinson's painting: "Matavai Bay Tahiti from One Tree Hill, showing the ENDEAVOUR at anchor, and Fort Venus".

Sunken frame die proof in black, on thick wove paper. Rare, only two recorded examples. Ex Lady Mairi Bury and Gawaine Baillie.
